The Innocent Bystander Gets His As Usual

During the riots of the past several weeks, over one-half of those injured were innocent people who were in the vicinity of the riots, but taking no active part. Anything from a dog fight to a corn doctor with a banjo will draw a crowd in Chicago and although common sense would teach a person that there was danger in being about where bullets were flying, thousands rushed to the scenes and some of them came away in ambulances and hearses. The "mind your own business" policy is always best. if you want amusement go to a circus and pay for it, if you want excitement go to a ball game or drive a flivver over Illinois mud roads, but do have sense enough to keep away from the crazed rioter with an automatic revolver. The soldiers coming to the assistance of the police has quieted the riots, but they may break out again. and if you value a whole hide keep out of the way. Your presence is a handicap to the authorities and you may easily be mistaken for one of the beligerents and a snappy bayonet thrust or a steel clad leaden bullet is the sort of souvenir few people care to carry. Mind your own affairs and keep out of the crowds.

We Must All Pay for Every Raise

When wages are raised in any or all lines every and all lines must pay it, and surely does it come from the ultimate consumer. The big boost for the street car men meant a raising of fares which must come from the passengers. A raise for the stock yards workers means an addition to the price of your liver and bacon for breakfast: the textile workers have had a 40 per cent raise and your clothes from overcoat to pajamas will cost you half as much more than last year. The "dollar and hour" scheme, now so popular, will mean such a horizontal increase in prices for every commodity and service, that those who receive it will not be one jot better off than at the old wage. The "war wage" has set people crazy, and adjustment must come soon or the country and it's industries will go to smash. We must all live and to do so we must have the price, and when that price is raised above our receipts and income, we must suffer. It is not right that one or more classes should receive the benefits and the others not, or the ones who do not receive it will rise up and take what they must have or more. Bunk politics, grafting in high up places and the wildness of speculation has continued this state of affairs after the war, and it is time that the sensible people take hold and demand equitable adjustment now, not a year hence but now when we need it.

The unpaved streets from 59th St. north have been subjected to a coating of dust proof oil.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Frank are enjoying a joyous vacation at Saugatuck, Mich.

The wise shopper will buy furs now and buy them of T. Kerman, 335 W. 63rd St. There is a good reason, he saves you money now as his August prices are surely the lowest. (Adv.)

If you like a good sermon, in a cool, comfortable church, hear Dr. Archibald, of Lowell, Mass., at the Englewood Baptist Church, corner Stewart and Englewood Aves., Sunday at 10:30 and 7:30. Good music at both services. (Adv.)

Work on the paving of Perry and Lafayette Aves., as well as 66th St. St. from Wentworth to State is being rushed as rapidly as the labor situation will permit.

Dr. Archibald, of Lowell, Mass., who preaches at the Englewood Baptist Church Sunday at 10:30 and 7:30, is one of the most successful Baptist preachers of the East. All Englewood people are cordially invited to hear him. (Adv.)

Miss Edna B. Wilder of 341 Englewood Ave. left the first of the week for Superior, Wis., for a visit at the home of Miss Mabel C. Bischoff, who during the year has resided at the home of Dr. G. J. Wilder and family. Miss Bischoff accompanied our reporter, Miss Wilder.

Perhaps your own church is closed for the summer but you feel that you would enjoy a first-class sermon by a strong preacher. If so, come to the Englewood Baptist Church Sunday and hear Dr. Archibald, of Lowell, Mass., at 10:30 and 7:30. (Adv.)

With the building of the elegant new Stratford building at 63rd St and Union Ave. the prospects of opening this street through from 61st to 63rd is considerably brightened. Very little property is improved on the desired strip and the cost would be very moderate if done now.

INVEST YOUR MONEY WISELY

6% The safest forms of investments have always been real estate mortgages secured by farm land. This is proved by the fact that the life insurance companies—the largest investors in the world—prefer farm loans over any other form of security. Producing farm land is better security than city realty. The principal value of city property rests in improvements which sooner or later become antiquated or unsuited to the needs of a changing neighborhood. The unforseen influx of undesirable neighbors adversely affects the value of city real estate. Farm land is free from [illegible] and its value is not affected to the average value of farm property. By this conservative policy we have made farm mortgages a specialty. For years we have been making farm mortgages and selling them to conservative investors in Chicago. We collect interest and principal without charge. That we have succeeded in building up a reputation for care and consideration is approximately due to the fact that we now have several hundred customers in Chicago and other cities in over 20 states.

Send for our Illustrated Booklet describing these safe investments.

Keeping Up the Service

WEATHER conditions, which mean little to most business enterprises, are of grave concern to the telephone business. The coming of a storm calls for the utmost vigilance on the part of those in charge of the telephone lines, in order that service may be maintained.

The cost of repairing the telephone lines after a storm often reaches large figures. One sleet storm did damage in the Chicago suburban division which cost $399,914 to repair. Another cost $21,999.

These expenses, in addition to operating costs and to those caused by the ordinary wear and tear, make adequate rates imperative.

From the standpoints of enrollment, attendance and results, the Daily Vacation Bible School held at the Marquette Road Baptist Church during the closing five-weeks' period has proved a remarkable success. The school is to close today. A demonstration of what the boys and girls have been learning and an exhibition of the craft-work they have been doing will be held at the church, corner of 67th and Laflin Sts., next Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The parents and friends of the scholars, the churches of the community, and the general public are cordially invited to attend.

Efficiency of Advertising

Advertising also works for efficiency because it draws in trade from the surrounding country and near by towns, thus enabling the business of a place to be conducted on a bigger scale. A non-advertising town gets very little outlying country business. People prefer to go a greater distance to places that show more enterprise.

When new business is drawn in from the surrounding country, and the trade volume is thereby increased, the stores can buy in bigger lots at lower prices. The expense charge for each article sold is reduced.

Thus advertising tends to create a community of active, enterprising, wide awake stores, that do business enough and turn their capital fast enough so that their service is performed on an economical basis.

This point of view is sustained by the fact that in any bright and go-ahead town, there is always a large group of merchants who are liberal advertisers and who get the best trade of the community and near by country.

Band Concert at Gresham

On Monday evening, August 25th, at eight o'clock the Chicago Band Association will give a concert in the park at 87th St., between Emerald and Union Aves. This organization has appointed a chairman in each ward to head a Woman's Auxiliary for the purpose of furnishing entertainments to the public in the various small parks throughout the city. Mrs. Albert J. Fisher has been apointed as chairman of such organization for the Thirty-second ward.

This will be an entertainment worth going miles to hear, and a cordial invitation is extended to all the people living within a reasonable distance. This is the first of a series of entertainments of a similar nature we can expect, if the people show their appreciation by turning out to this one. Mrs. Fisher has appointed Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Tidd of Brainerd, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Arnold, Mrs. F. W. Dayton and Mrs. T. E. Harrison, as a Publicity Committee.

About twelve years ago, the Gresham Improvement Association started a movement to get the small "Park Boards" to take over that portion of 87th St. between the Rock Island tracks and Eggleston Ave. and convert it into a small park. Through its efforts the Board of Local Improvements carried out a plan of paving by making a narrow roadway on the north and south side of the 200 foot street, leaving the center so that it might be converted into a park. After a long fight, in which the citizens of Gresham lent their united support, and through the constant upport of our Alderman, A. J. Fisher it was finally accepted by the Small Parks Board, and an appropriation secured for the improvement.

This has resulted in converting a spot that heretofore had been a depository for tin cans and a growth of weeds to one of the most beautiful spots on the South Side. But it is the desire of the Park Board that it is not only to be admired for its beauty but that it should be used, and it has fallen to the lot of the Chicago Band Association to start a movement that will bring to the people in this vicinity an opportunity to fully enjoy it and it is to be hoped that they all will turn out and show their appreciation and enjoy its benefits.

Crusoe Overlooked a Bet.

That Robinson Crusoe, in spite of his well known resourcefulness, overlooked a fine business opportunity is shown by the fact that the island of his adventures, Mas-a-Tierra off the Juan Fernandez group off the coast of Chile, is now the seat of a large lobster-canning industry. Crusoe seemed to think he was doing remarkably well to pick up the necessities of life on that island—and most of them were washed ashore from a wreck at that—but its modern inhabitants do a rushing business in the export of luxuries.

HALSTED THEATRE

The Halsted Theatre at 62nd and Halsted Sts. is offering some unusual attractions as will be seen by their advertisement in another column. A feature of the Halsted is their $5,000 Bartola orchestra organ which Mr. Frank has recently installed, being the finest procurable and the leading musical attraction of the house and one that is well worth a visit to hear.

Again the Halsted Theatre, 62nd and Halsted Sts., is showing "some speed" when it comes to giving their patrons their money's worth. Sunday, August 10th, the world's greatest laugh maker, Charles Chaplin, in his long-awaited latest comedy, "Sunnyside," his supreme comedy triumph. You can imagine what Charlie will do in a small town hotel. He chauffeurs the cows, mows the floors and entertains the wood nymphs. Three solid reels of joy. One big cyclone of fun. It's his latest—it's his greatest—it's Chaplin—so nuf sed! Also Charles Chaplin in his first picture made seven years ago, for which he was paid exactly $3.50 for his work. See how public taste has changed in the matter of motion comedies. This is not a re-issue. This is his latest million dollar comedy. Charles Chaplin in "Sunnyside" will teach the whole world to—Be happy though hired; lay fresh fried hen fruit; let no grass grow under the feet; chauffeur the cows; catch wild oats; beat the alarm clock; win a maiden's love; meet real fairies, and see farm life as it should be!

Friday and Saturday, August 15th and 16th, matinee and night

Then on Friday and Saturday, August 15th and 16th, Anita Stewart, in her latest play, "Human Desire." The adorable romance of a motherless waif's present of happiness. From the story by Violet Irwin. A romance of mother-love in which the little star is a motherless waif who escapes in trousers from a convent in Italy and comes to America to care for all the poor neglected babies. Altogether charming, quaint and different from Miss Stewart's previous photoplays. Spurred by a mysterious, unconquerable mother instinct, Berenice flees the sanctity of her convent home and goes to America. There, revered by Robert Bruce, to whom her warm, maternal nature is a golden emblem of the happiness denied him by his wife, Berenice innocently accepts the realization of human desire until Mrs. Bruce returns—then comes tragic bitterness to the little mother heart.

ENGLEWOOD THEATRE

At last a burlesque producer came forward, in the person of E. T. Beatty, to disprove the statement that there is nothing new beneath the sun. Next week starting Sunday matinee, August 10th, E. Thos. Beatty will offer his big new Parisian novelty burlesque show entitled "Oh, Frenchy," with a car load of beautiful scenery, novel and fashionable costumes. Mr. Al. Martin, the famous Irish comedian, and Hazel Ford, the little girl with the big voice, head a cast of principals second to none now appearing on the American stage. Such well known performers as Jules Jacobs, Lottie Lee, Walter Austin, Martha White and Al. Garbelle work in a harmonious group, and succeed in putting over one of the most laughable, tuneful, tingling, whirlwind shows that has ever appeared at the above theater. Oh Frenchy is not the type of show that you have become accustomed to see, but is a snappy, fast mirth provoking oddity that only the people of Paris know. Mr. Beatty has gone to great expense to bring those ideas to this country, and is offering them to burlesque patrons at the regular price for admission. Everywhere this attraction has appeared it was met with loud acclaim, and capacity business has been the rule in every instance. "A Day At the Movies," is the title of the vehicle in which the all-star cast, assisted by the twenty baby vampires, the youngest and most beautiful chorus that ever graced an American stage. Can you not imagine the possibilities in a moving picture studio? Charley Chaplin and Fatty Arbuckle were never funnier than Al. Martin and Jules Jacobs are in this novel setting. Never before has a cast of people been gathered together, with such a wonderful array of singing voices. A glance over the names above will soon show you that this is true in every way, and the lovers of good singing are assured a pleasant surprise when they attend the performance of "Oh Frenchy" at the Englewood Theater next week.

LESSONS ON THRIFT IN WOMEN'S CLUBS

Textbook Prepared by Savings Division of Treasury Department Sent to All Illinois Organizations.

A campaign to make every woman's club in Illinois a school of thrift has been set in motion by the division of women's organizations of the War Savings Organization for Illinois. The textbood, "Ten Lessons in Thrift," published by the savings division of the United States treasury department, has been sent to all clubs. If any organizations composed of women have been overlooked the book may be had on application to the state director of savings.

The textbook was prepared with the co-operation of the social and industrial conditions department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The extent to which every subject in the lessons is covered is indicated by a section selected at random from the lesson on the household budget. This section, entitled "Interpretation of Schedules," is as follows:

When is clothing a necessity and when a luxury?

When is food a necessity and when an amusement?

When is amusement education and when a frivolity?

When is fuel an item in rent and when current expense?

When are club dues education and when amusement?

When is vacation health and when amusement?

When is the theater amusement and when indulgence?

When is rent a necessity and when extravagance?

When is carfare personal expense and when rent?

When is charity a fixed charge and when a current expense?

When is insurance an investment and when a fixed charge?

When is clothing a necessity and when an adornment?

The topics of the ten lessons, designed to cover a period of ten months, are:

1. "Economic and Social Background"—Thrift and savings, savings and wealth, wealth and civilization.
2. "Thrift in the Household"—The family a corporation, the woman as home manager.
3. "The Household Budget"—Principles, methods and uses of the budget.
4. "Family Accounting"—Purposes, methods and values of accounts.
5. "Thrift in Buying"—Test of choice and standards of values.
6. "Conservation of Things"—The business of getting, keeping and using home wares.
7. "Conservation of Living"—The ministry of things to matters spiritual.
8. "Thrift in Municipal Affairs"—Action and reaction of household and community.
9. "Funds and Investments"—Translation of savings into funds; canons of investment.
10. "Systematic Savings"—How to save, how to invest—War Savings stamps.

A large number of Illinois women's clubs already have decided to establish regular classes. A preliminary session is planned for an explanation of the course and driving home the definition of thrift, as follows:

Thrift: A thriving condition; prosperity, success, good fortune.—Webster.

To Thrive: To win success by industry, economy and good management; to increase in goods or estate.—Webster.

Thrift is good management of the business of living.

Thrift is care and prudence in the management of one's affairs.

Thrift means to get the most for one's money, the most for one's time the most for one's strength.

Thrift has four elements:
- Earning or production.
- Spending or choosing.
- Saving or conservation.
- Investment or accumulation.

Thrift has three qualities:
- Frugality or carefulness.
- Economy or good management.
- Judgment or wise decision.

Thrift yields three products:
- Security of the state.
- Prosperity of the community.
- Sovereignty of the individual.

At each session the classes will be reminded that War Savings stamps are a device by which the government's needs are met through the exercise of thrift by men, women and children; an instrument by which thrift is promoted and fostered throughout the community.

SULLIVAN'S SENSE AND NONSENSE

'TWAS EVER THUS

In the days of ancient Isis,
When the butchers boosted prices,
Getting very
Arbitrary,
Just as butchers do today,
All the populace protested
That they ought to be arrested,
Kicked and howled and
Groaned and growled and—
Bought their stuff the same old way.

So today, in righteous fury,
We submit to a grand jury
The quotations
Of the rations
Of the proletariat.
And the fierce investigating
Of this dastard price inflating
First intrigues us,
Then fatigues us,
So we let it go at that.

The man who hasn't been on strike must feel lonesome.

I hope the children get back to school next month without organizing for a strike.

It is a shame to remind you of it now, but your overcoat will cost you double price this fall.

At Stewart Ave. on a 63rd St. car I was shocked to hear a feminine voice scream "Wait conductor until I take off my clothes." As I modestly covered my face a woman unloaded a basket of laundry Now wasn't that shocking?

If I get all the fish promised me by ambitious fishermen, I sure will grow thin. However most of them come back and give me apologies of the game laws, etc, and I haven't realized a single minnow.

The nickel a day telephone has again come into its own, and all charges for changes and installation have been removed. This we believe to be the only case of "before the war prices being resumed.

It was in a heated argument between Moriarity and Casey when Moriarity shouted, "Casey, you're a loir." "Mebbe so," said Casey. "A loir can refarm but a dommed fool will be wun awl the days iv his loife."

This is not bad for an Englwood girl. I had told her I saw the prettiest girl in town that morning, and she came back with "Yes, I had to go to the bakery early this morning." Think of it, and from Englewood.

It was a Harvard Ave. Papa, who in loaning his daughter ten dollars said, "I'll let you have it if you promise not to keep it too long." "All right Dad," said the girly. "I'll promise to spend every cent of it in less than an hour."

Some one asked Casey what they called the men that drove the automobiles. "Well," said the philosopher, "Sum calls 'um wun thing and sum anither, according to their religious views, but fer mesilf Oi thinks they do be dommed nuisances."

"You say, madam," said a lawyer to a woman in the witness box, "that the defendant is a sort of relation of yours. Will you please explain what you mean by that—just how you are related to the defendant?" "Well. it's just like this. His first wife's cousin and my second husband's first wife's aunt married brothers, named Jones, and they were own cousins to my mother's own aunt. Then, again his grandfathers on my mother's side were second cousins, and his stepmother married my husband's stepfather after his father and my mother died, and his brother Joe and my husband's brother, Henry, married twin sisters. I ain't never figured out just how close related we are, but I've always looked on 'im as a sort of cousin."

A lawsuit had arisen out of a dispute about a right of way, and the counsel for the landlord, who was the defendant, was cross-examining a venerable laborer who had testified that to his personal knowledge there had been a right of way over the disputed land since he was a boy 5 years old. "And how old are you now?" asked the lawyer. "Eighty-five." "But surely you can't remember things which occurred when you were a boy of 5, eighty years ago?" said the lawyer, in affected incredulity. "'Deed, an' I can, sir! I can mind a year afore that, when your father—auld skinflint, as we used to call him—" "That will do. You may go," said counsel, reddening, as a titter ran through the court. "Got an awful wallopin' frae Joan Mac Intosh—" "That'll do!" roared the lawyer wrathfully. "For cheatin' her 2 year old lassie—" "Do you hear? You can go, I say!" "Oot o' the change of a thrupenny bit!" concluded the venerable witness triumphantly. as he slowly left the witness box.

Four men in the smoking carriage were playing whist, and the game was fast and furious. One of the party, however, was constantly finding fault with his partner's play, and when the victim threw away a diamond on a spade lead the irascible one blurted out: "Dash it, man, haven't you got a black suit?" "Yes," said the partner with a deadly gleam in his eye; "and I'll soon be wearing it at your funeral if you don't dry up!"

Casey and Moriarity were traveling together in their younger days and after having a jubilee one night retired together, taking a filled bottle to their room with them. Casey awaited until Moriarity was asleep, when he quietly arose and emptied the bottle. Soon after Moriarity, waking, stole softly out of bed and groping about in the dark, was asked by Casey, "Phwat are yez luken for Moike?" "Oh, nothin," said Moriarity. "Will, then," says Casey, "Yez will fiomd it over there in the bottle," and he quietly composed himself t sleep.

An old Scotchman was acting as guide to an American tourist who was traveling through Scotland. Sandy found great difficulty in pleasing his employer, for no matter what point of interest he took him to see, it was nothing in comparison to what the American had already seen in the United States. Finally Sandy took him to see Loch Katrine that supplies the city of Glasgow with the finest drinking water in the world. "Ha'e a drink o' that, mon ye ha'ena water like that in New York." The American drank long, and when he had finished he turned to the old Scotchman and said, "Say, Sandy, that's the finest water I've ever tasted. If we had this lake in New York we would make a fortune out of it." "Weel sir," said Sandy, "ye can easy get it there." "Impossible," said the American. "How in the world could I take a lake to New York?" "Weel," said Sandy, "ye cud lav a two-inch pipe frae here to New York an' if ye can suck as well as ye can blow, ye'll ha'e it there in no time."

THE IDLER

If you have an idle dollar
It's a slacker.
Take it firmly by the collar,
It's a slacker.
Make it battle for the nation;
For a dollar on vacation
In this present situation
Is a slacker.

W. S. S. MONEY STAYS HOME.

The War Savings committe for Illinois calls attention to the fact that the amount of money received from War Savings stamps does not leave the country but comes back to the people. It is used in paying the bills due for labor in this country, and for keeping open the channels of trade, thereby furnishing labor for the individual man and woman. Thus it is seen that providing the government with a steady flow of cash enables the poorest man to do his duty and to show his patriotism in exactly the same way as people who can lend the government great sums of money, or who can go across

HER FIRST REAL MONEY

"This card represents my first real money," recently said a farmer's wife, with an odd look of mingled pride, deprecation and something very like triumph.

"At home, as a girl, I had no money Mother bought things for us children with whatever money father gave her. Since I've been married it's been much the same. I've got things at the town stores and Jim's paid for them. Even my egg and butter money has gone, as a rule, to help with the household upkeep—turned in on the grocery bill usually. I've never seemed able to hold on to a penny.

"But when the War Savings Stamps came along I said to myself, 'Here's your chance, Mary!' And now I buy War Savings Stamps regularly, take 'em in change as regularly as I sell chickens or cash the creamery check at the bank. I've filled several cards already, and I can tell you I gloat over 'em! When those War Savings Stamps mature I'll have real money of my own."
